

THE GREAT WINERY CHALLENGE at McLaren Vale – “A smash hit!”

On Friday 6 September 2013, Torresan Estate Contract Bottling, Packaging and Warehousing, along with Chalk Hill, Studio Labels and Marsh Insurance held a charity clay target shooting event to raise most needed funds for the local McLaren Vale Country Fire Service (CFS).

The charity shooting event was supported by a number of local wineries including: Lavina Wines, Olivers Taranga Wines, Gemtree, Sabella Wines, Fox Creek, Yangarra Estate, Riposte Wines by Tim Knappstein, Chalk Hill, Walter Clappis Wines, Kay Brothers and Loom Wines. The day was also made possible with the expertise and assistance of Winchester and Rocky Gully Sporting Clays.

Overlooking the Vale, Chalk Hill Viticulture’s picturesque vineyard set the scene for what was a day full of fun, laughter and competitiveness for a good cause.

Director of Torresan Contract Bottling, Mr John Torresan stated, “It was great to see the local wineries join together to make a social occasion into a profitable day for the CFS. He went to say, “the generosity of the wineries was greatly appreciated by the members of the CFS, who attended the event early in the morning after their tiresome work from the previous day’s local McLaren Vale fire. “We all appreciate the time dedicated by the local volunteers and their efforts for the community. And congratulations to Olivers Taranga Vineyards as the victorious team of this inaugural event.”

Over 80 people attended this gala event which raised over $3500. Participants raved about the day and all are looking forward to another challenge in 2014. This event shows what can be achieved for our local community. All the businesses involved are to be congratulated for their participation in this fantastic event and we would like to sincerely thank all those involved for their great enthusiasm and support.
